A more cohesive experience

Connecting product discovery with account access.

01 Login

Clearer form hierarchy and actions, with colour and typography aligned to Frodoh.

02 Sign up

Better spacing and field grouping, supported by consistent form components.

03 Landing page

A clearer product proposition, supported by refined layout and imagery.

Structuring the experience

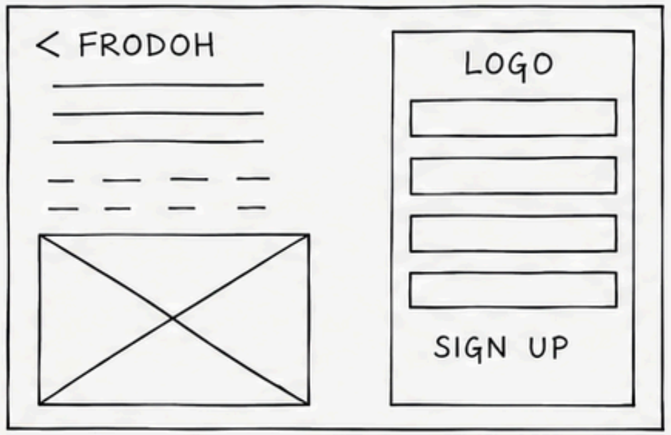

Early layouts for product discovery and account access.

01 Landing page

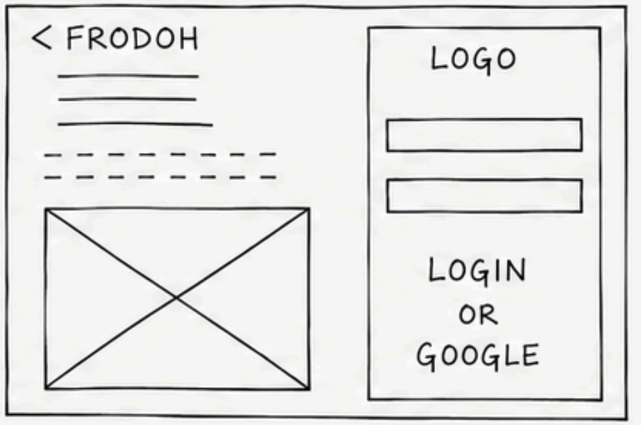

Hero, feature sequence and footer.

02 Sign up

Product context alongside account creation.

03 Login

A matching structure for returning users.

Login page redesign

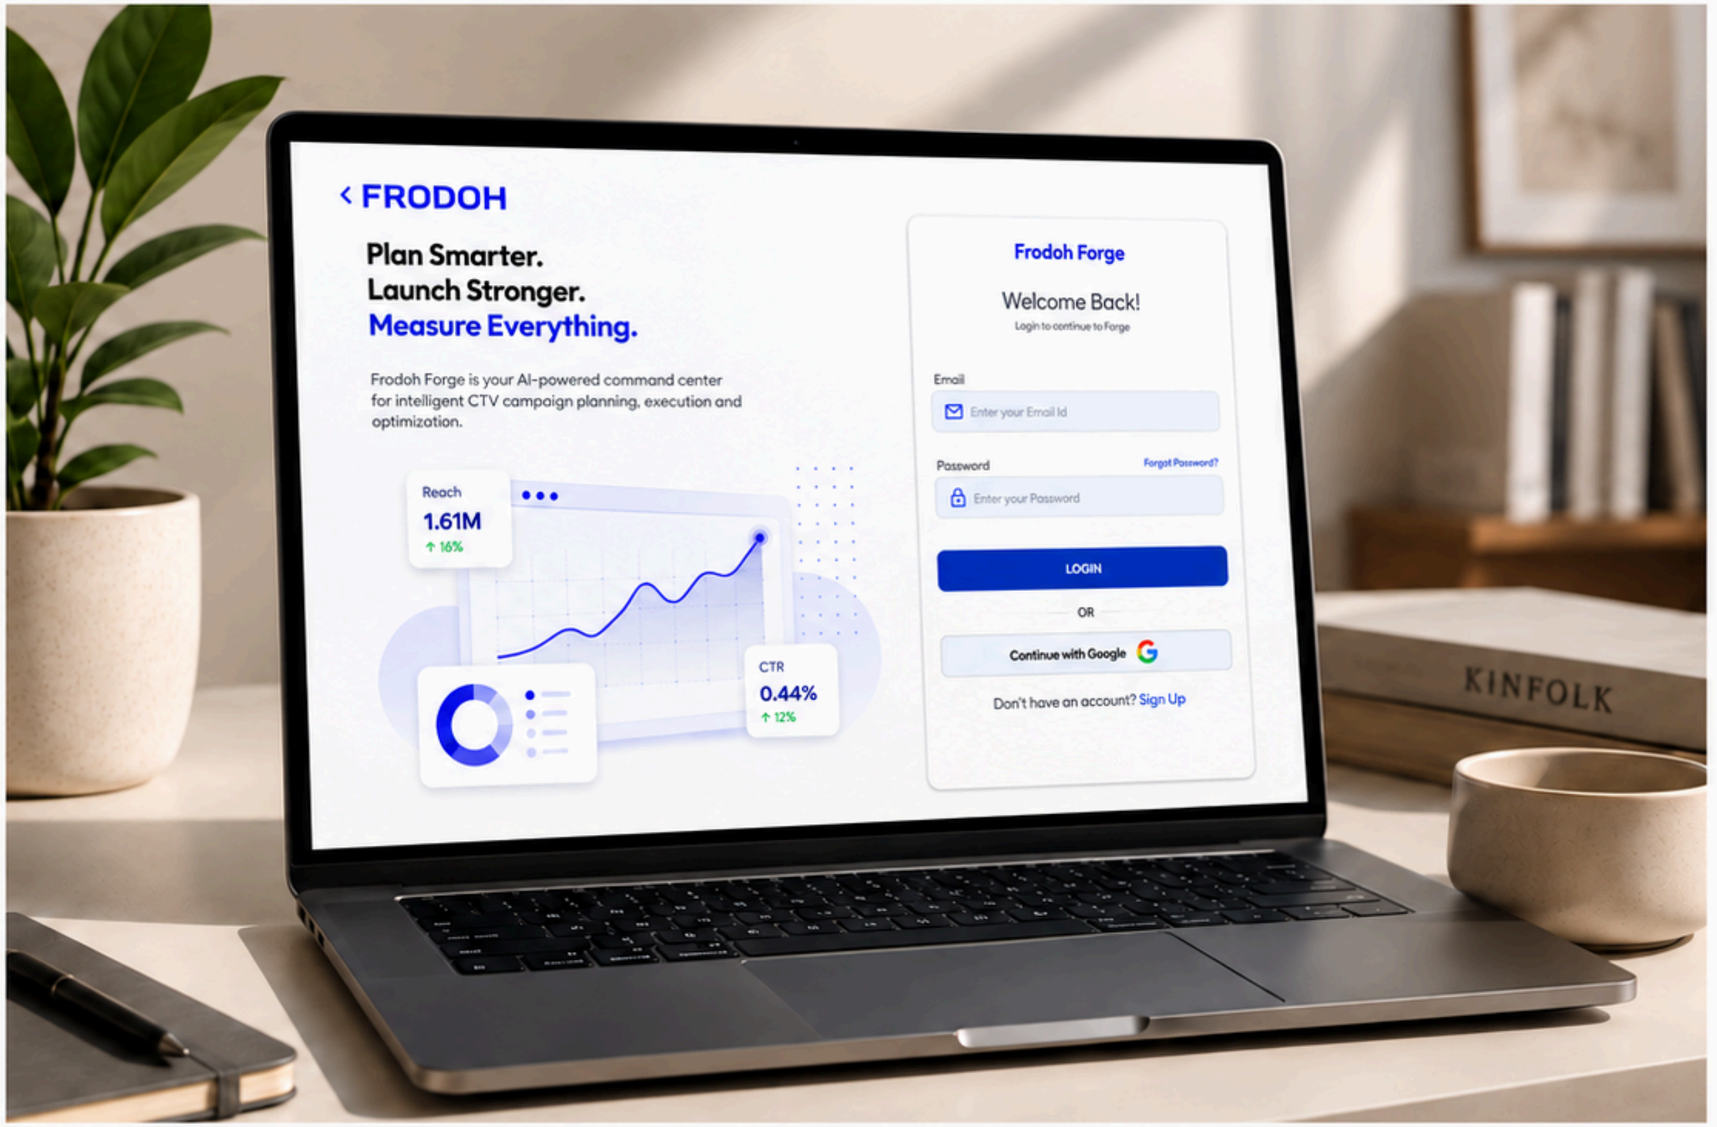

A focused sign-in experience with clear product context.

Brand consistency

Aligned colours and typography across the login interface.

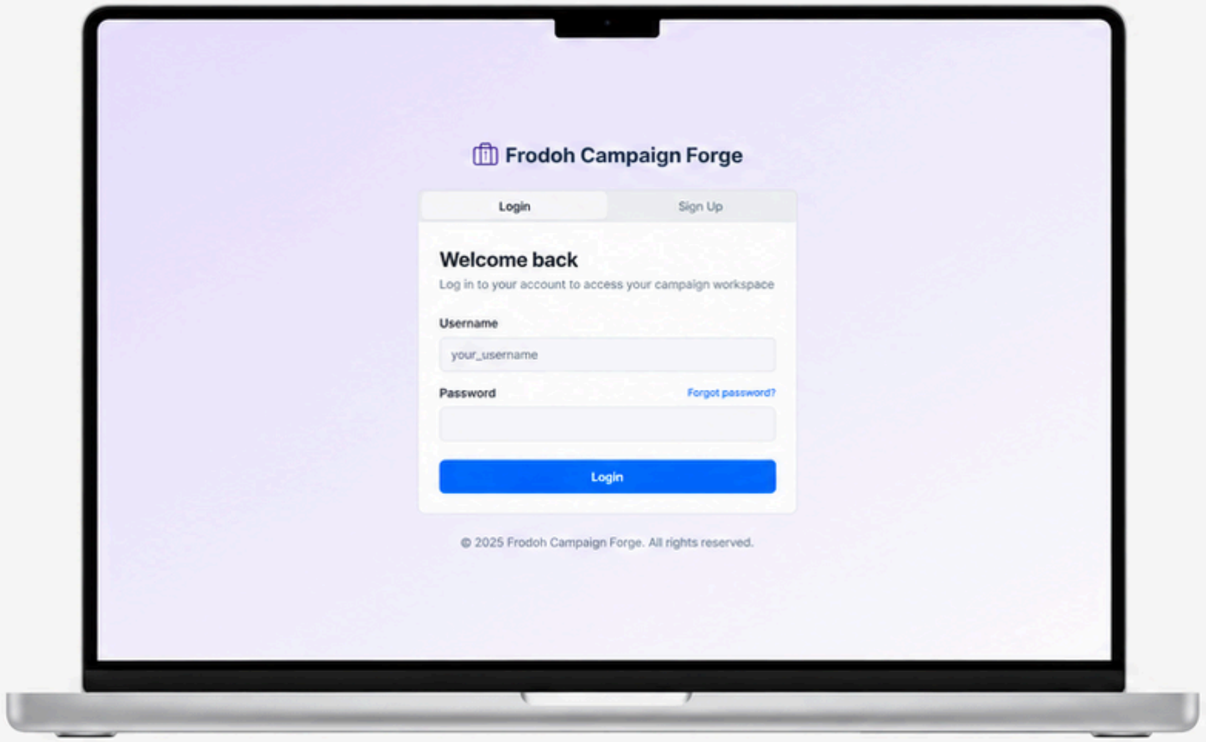

Entry options

Email login with a proposed Google sign-in option.

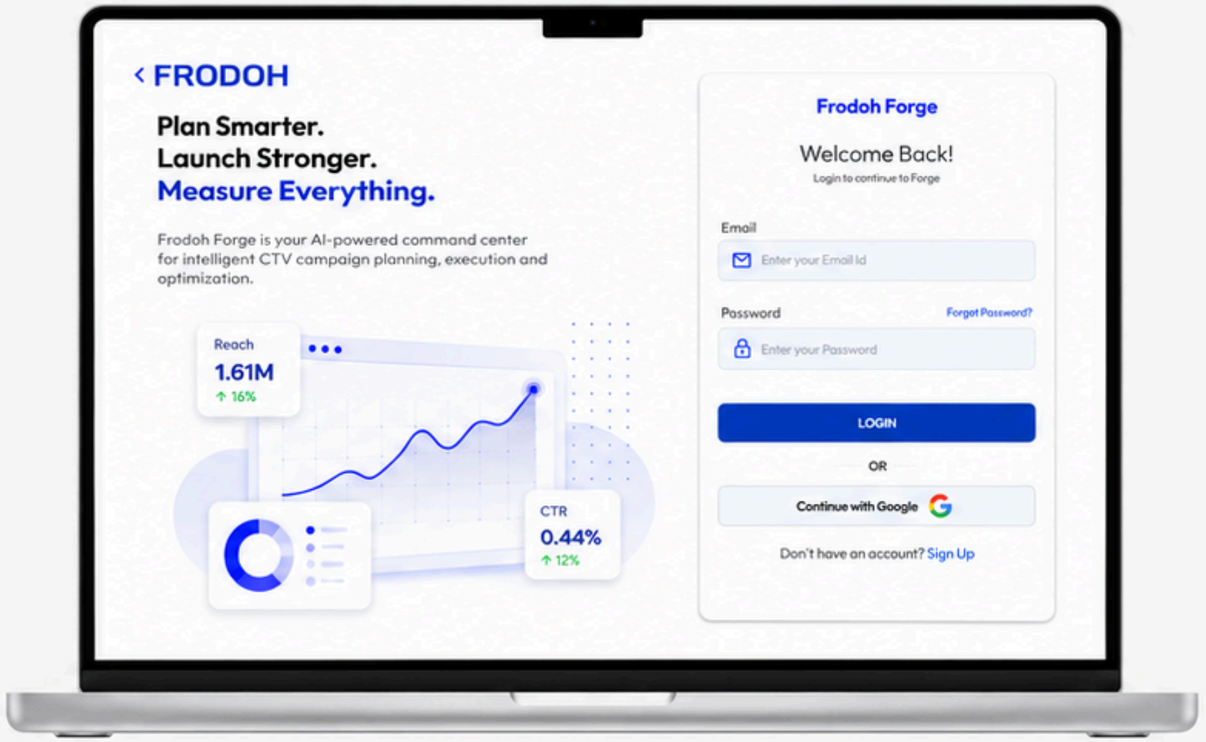

Login: before and after

Before

A standalone form with limited product context.

After

A branded layout with product context and clearer entry options.

Sign up redesign

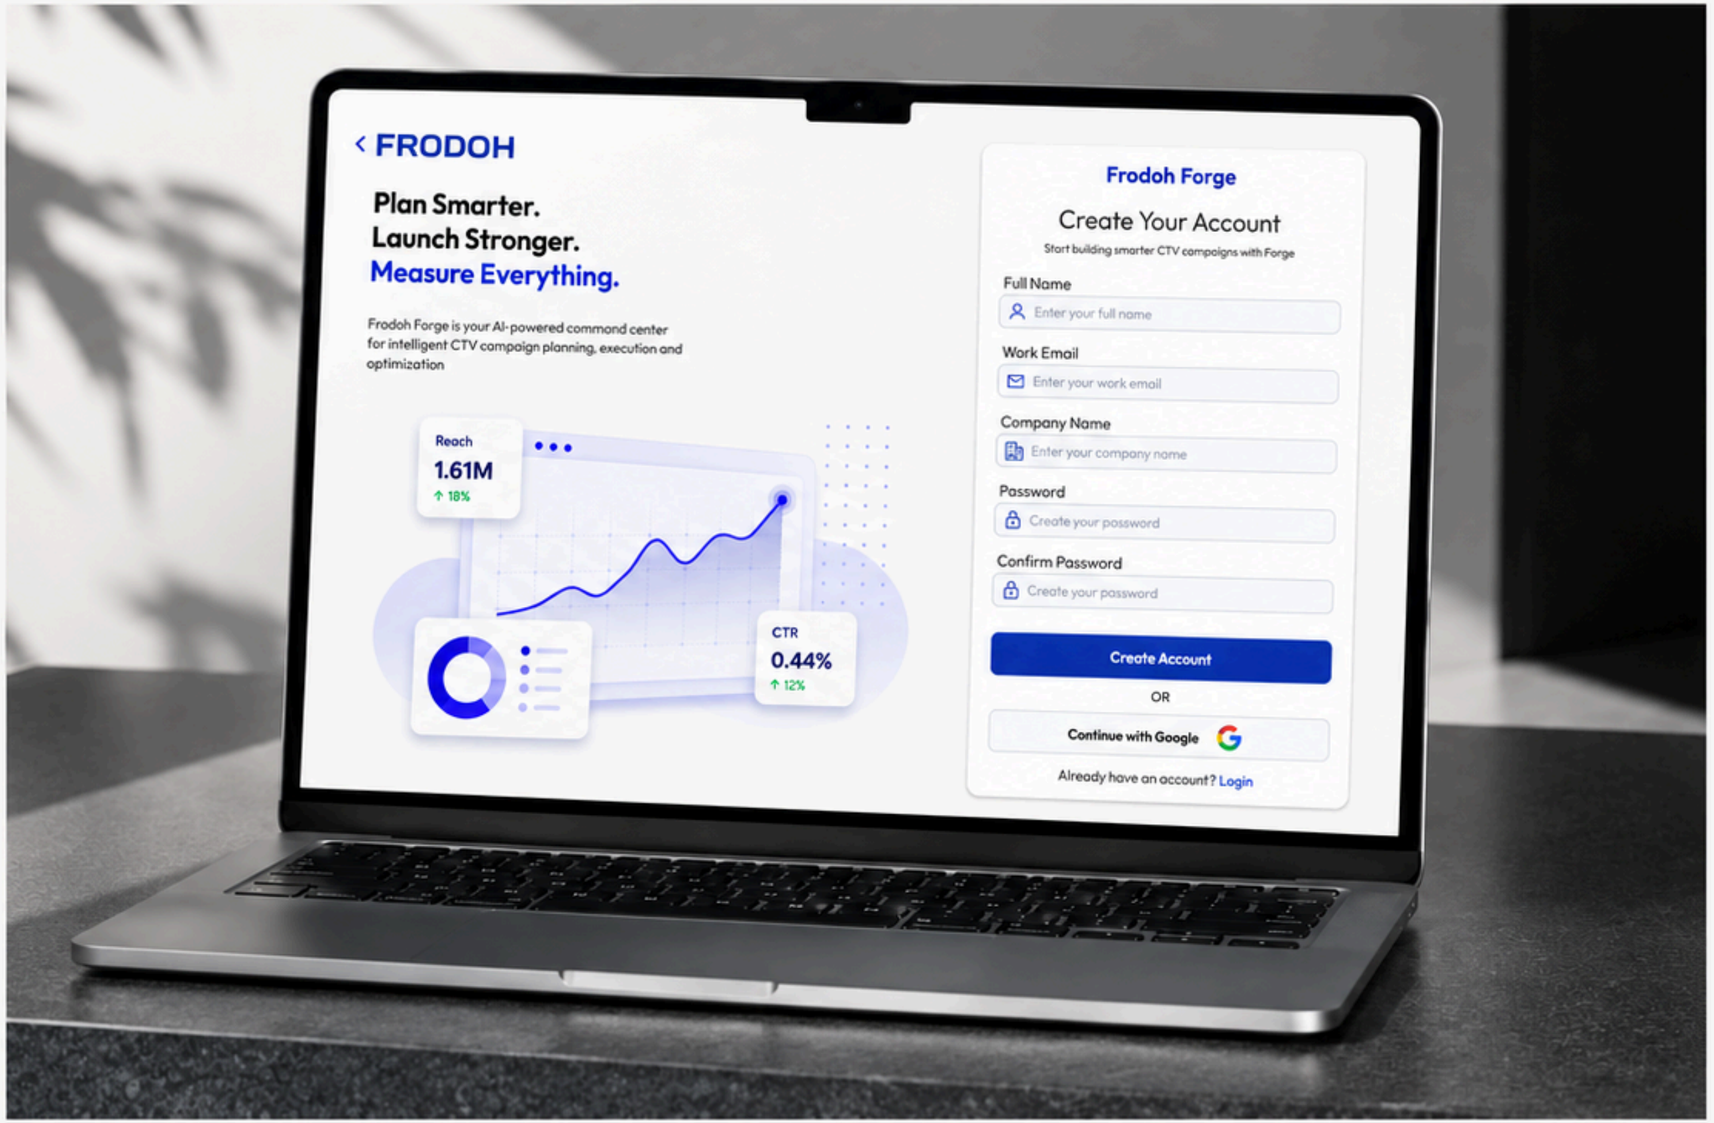

A consistent entry experience for new accounts.

Business context

Full Name, Work Email and Company Name fields suit the platform.

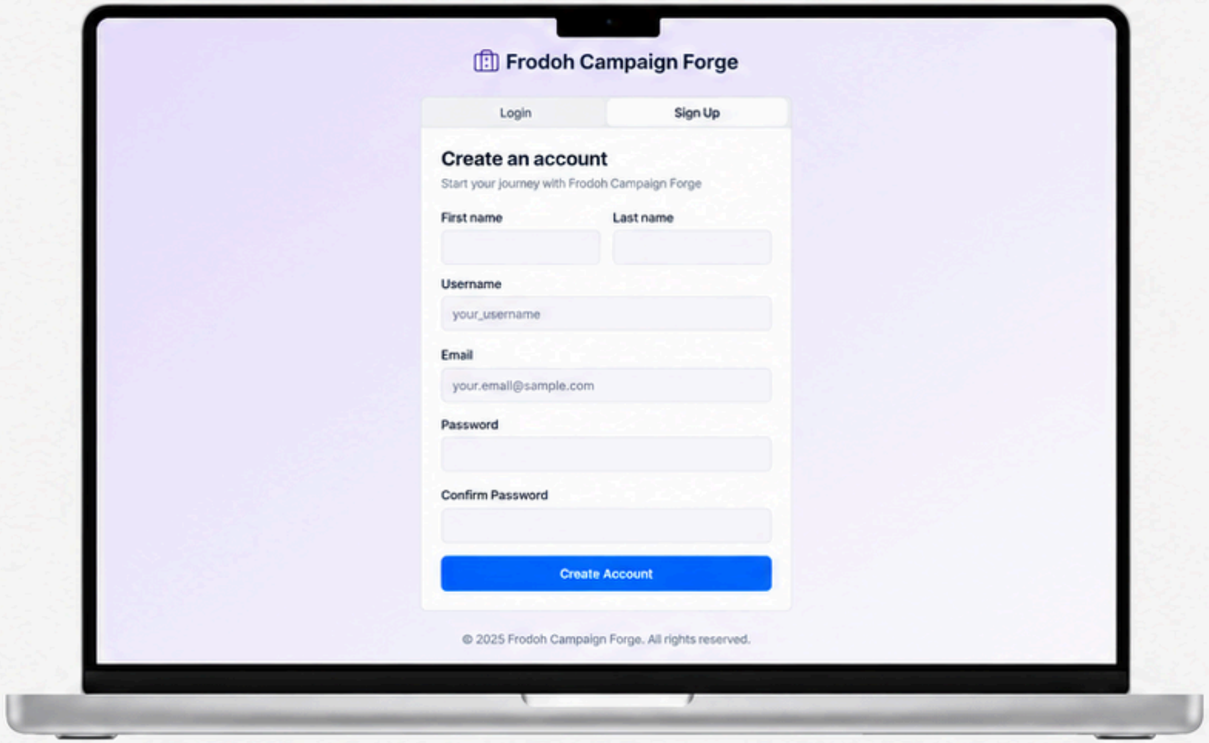

Connected experience

Shared branding and layout connect sign up with login.

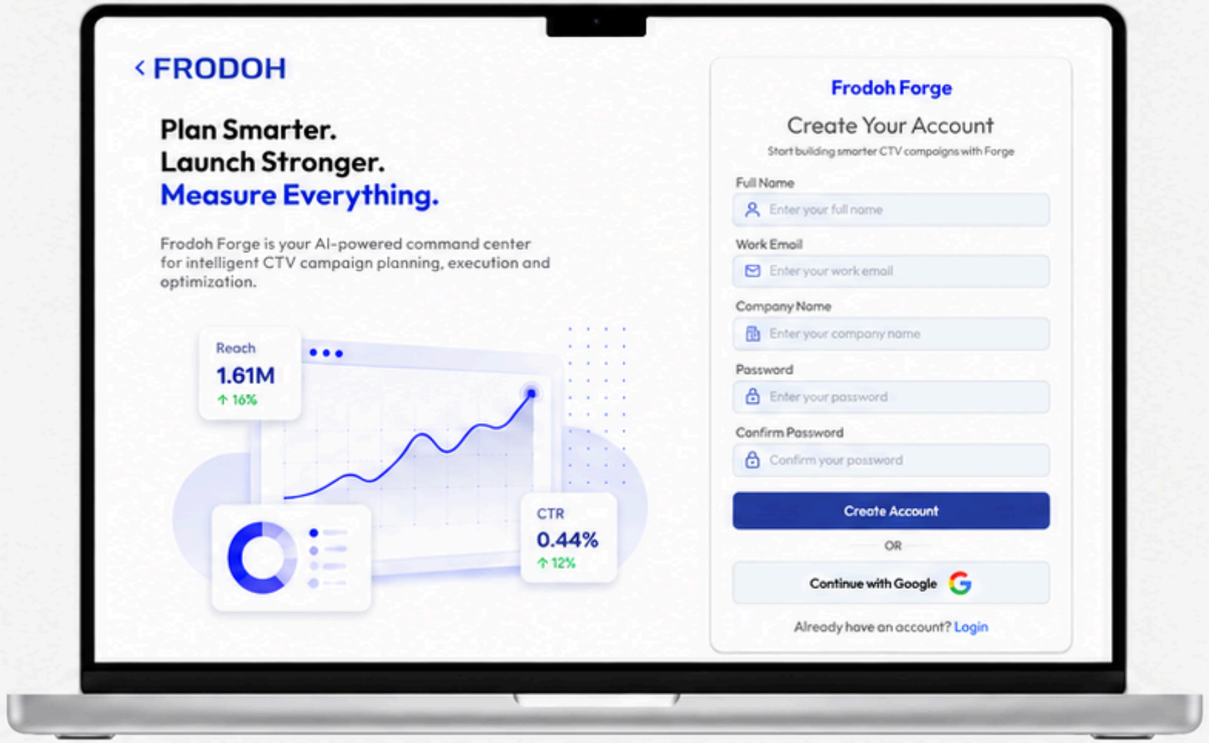

Sign up: before and after

Before

Separate name fields and a generic username.

After

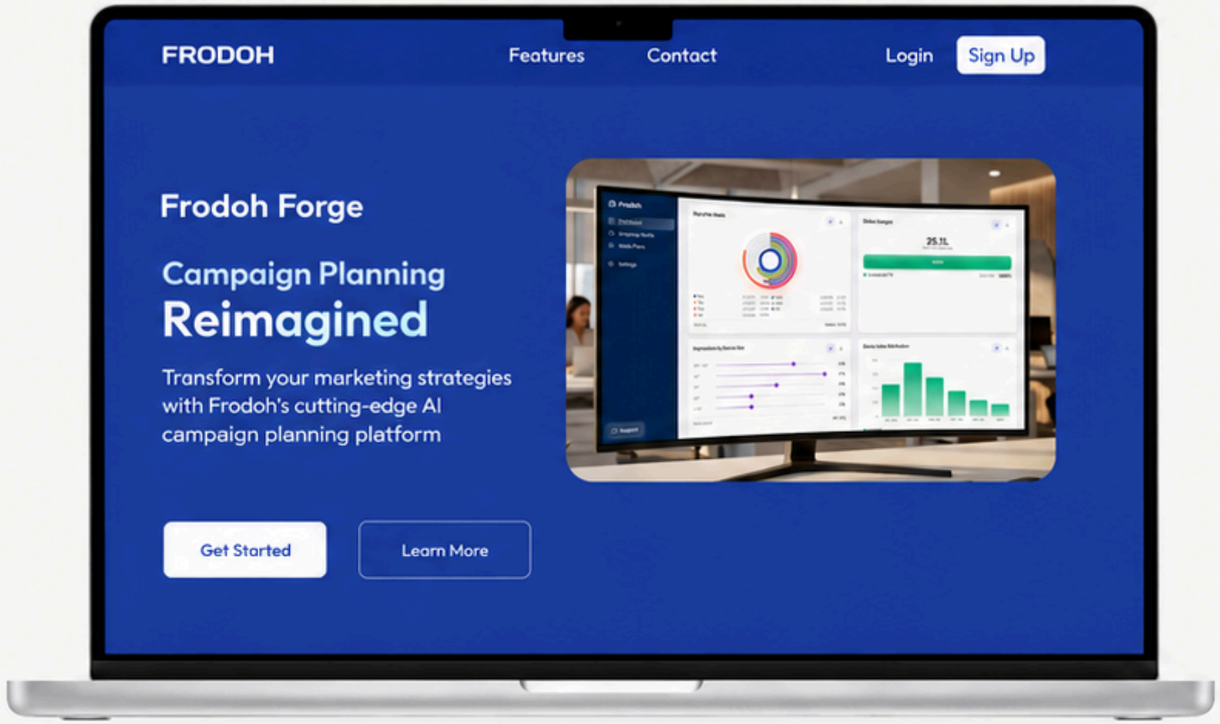

A single name field, business details and consistent branding.

Landing page redesign

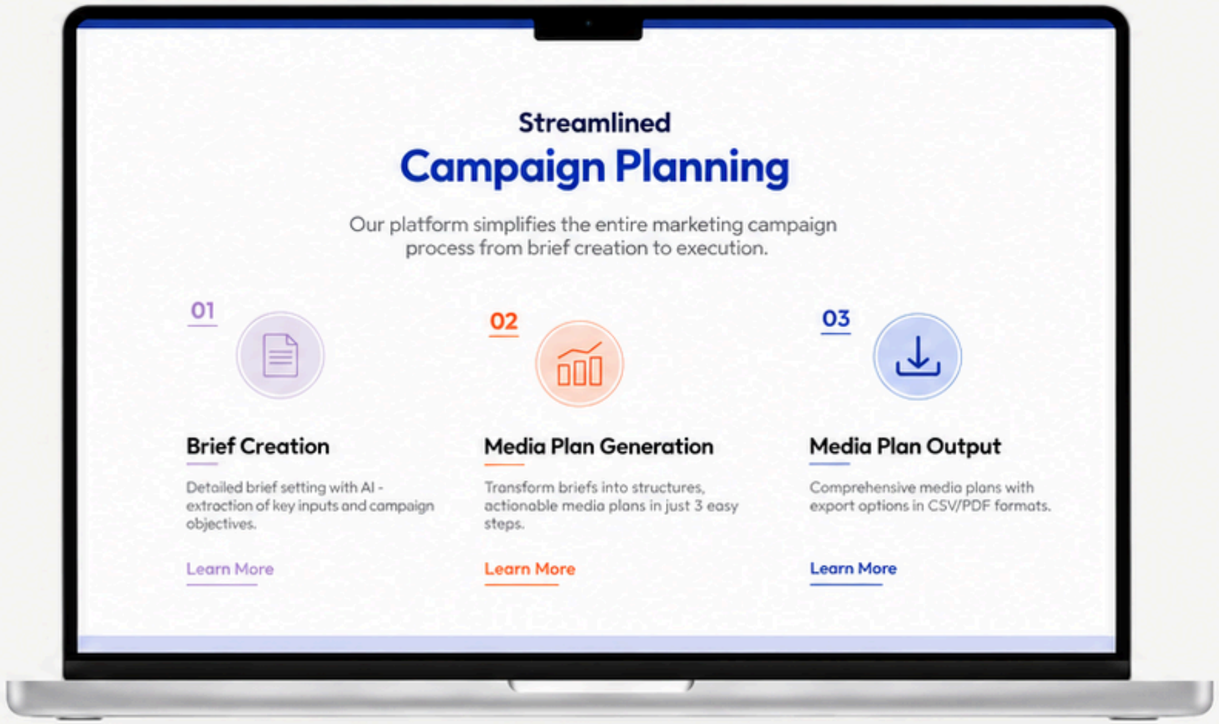

Introducing Forge and explaining the campaign planning workflow.

01 Product introduction

A focused hero introduces the platform and its primary actions.

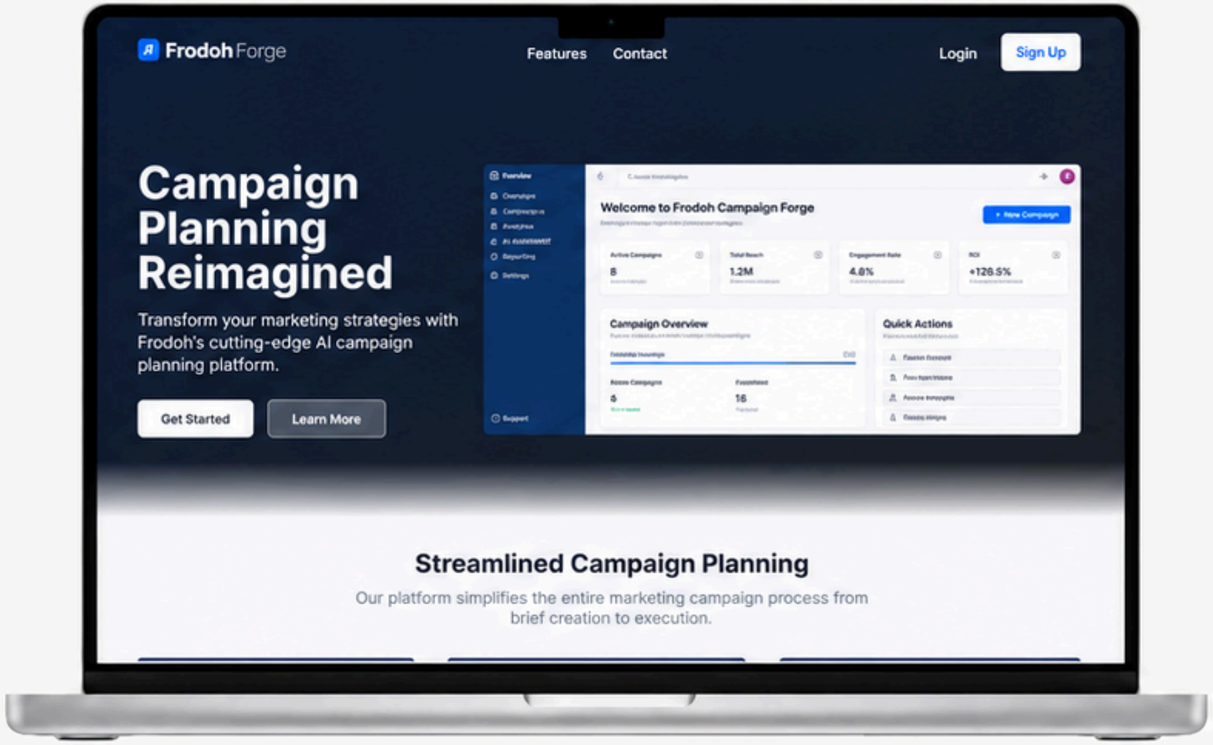

02 Planning workflow

Numbered stages explain brief creation, plan generation and output.

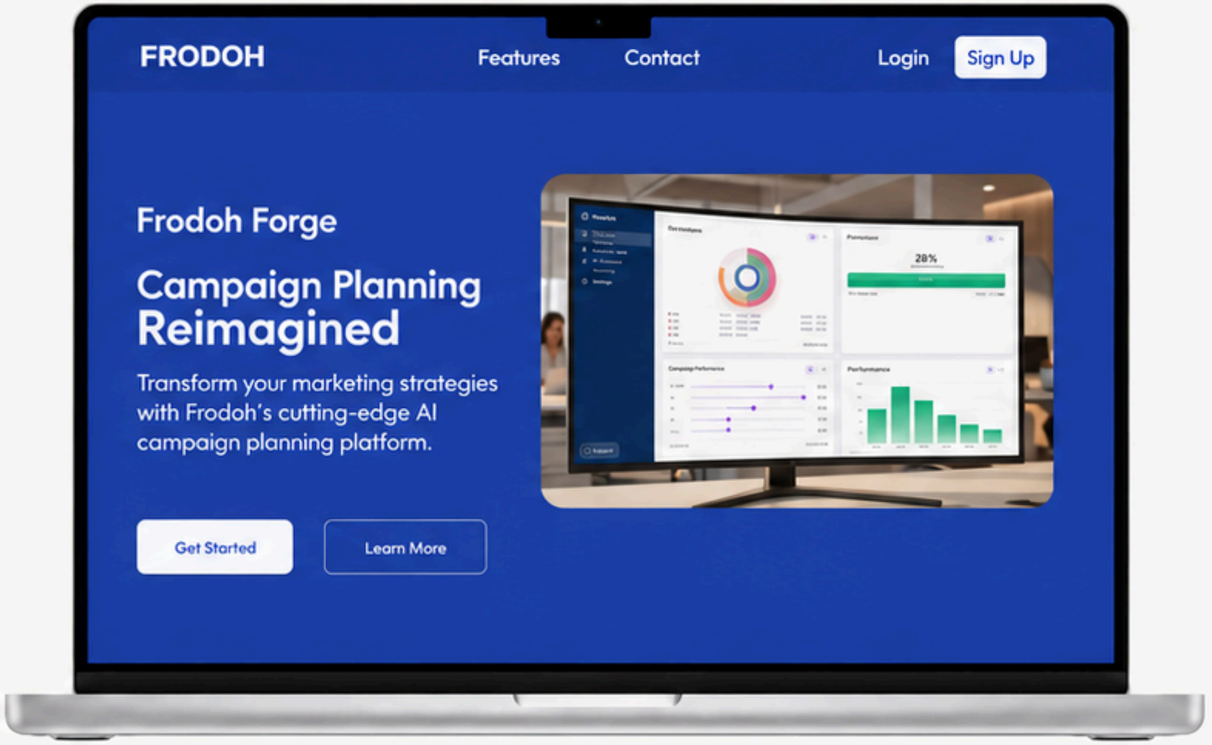

Landing page: before and after

Before

A dark hero with a flat dashboard preview and blurred transition.

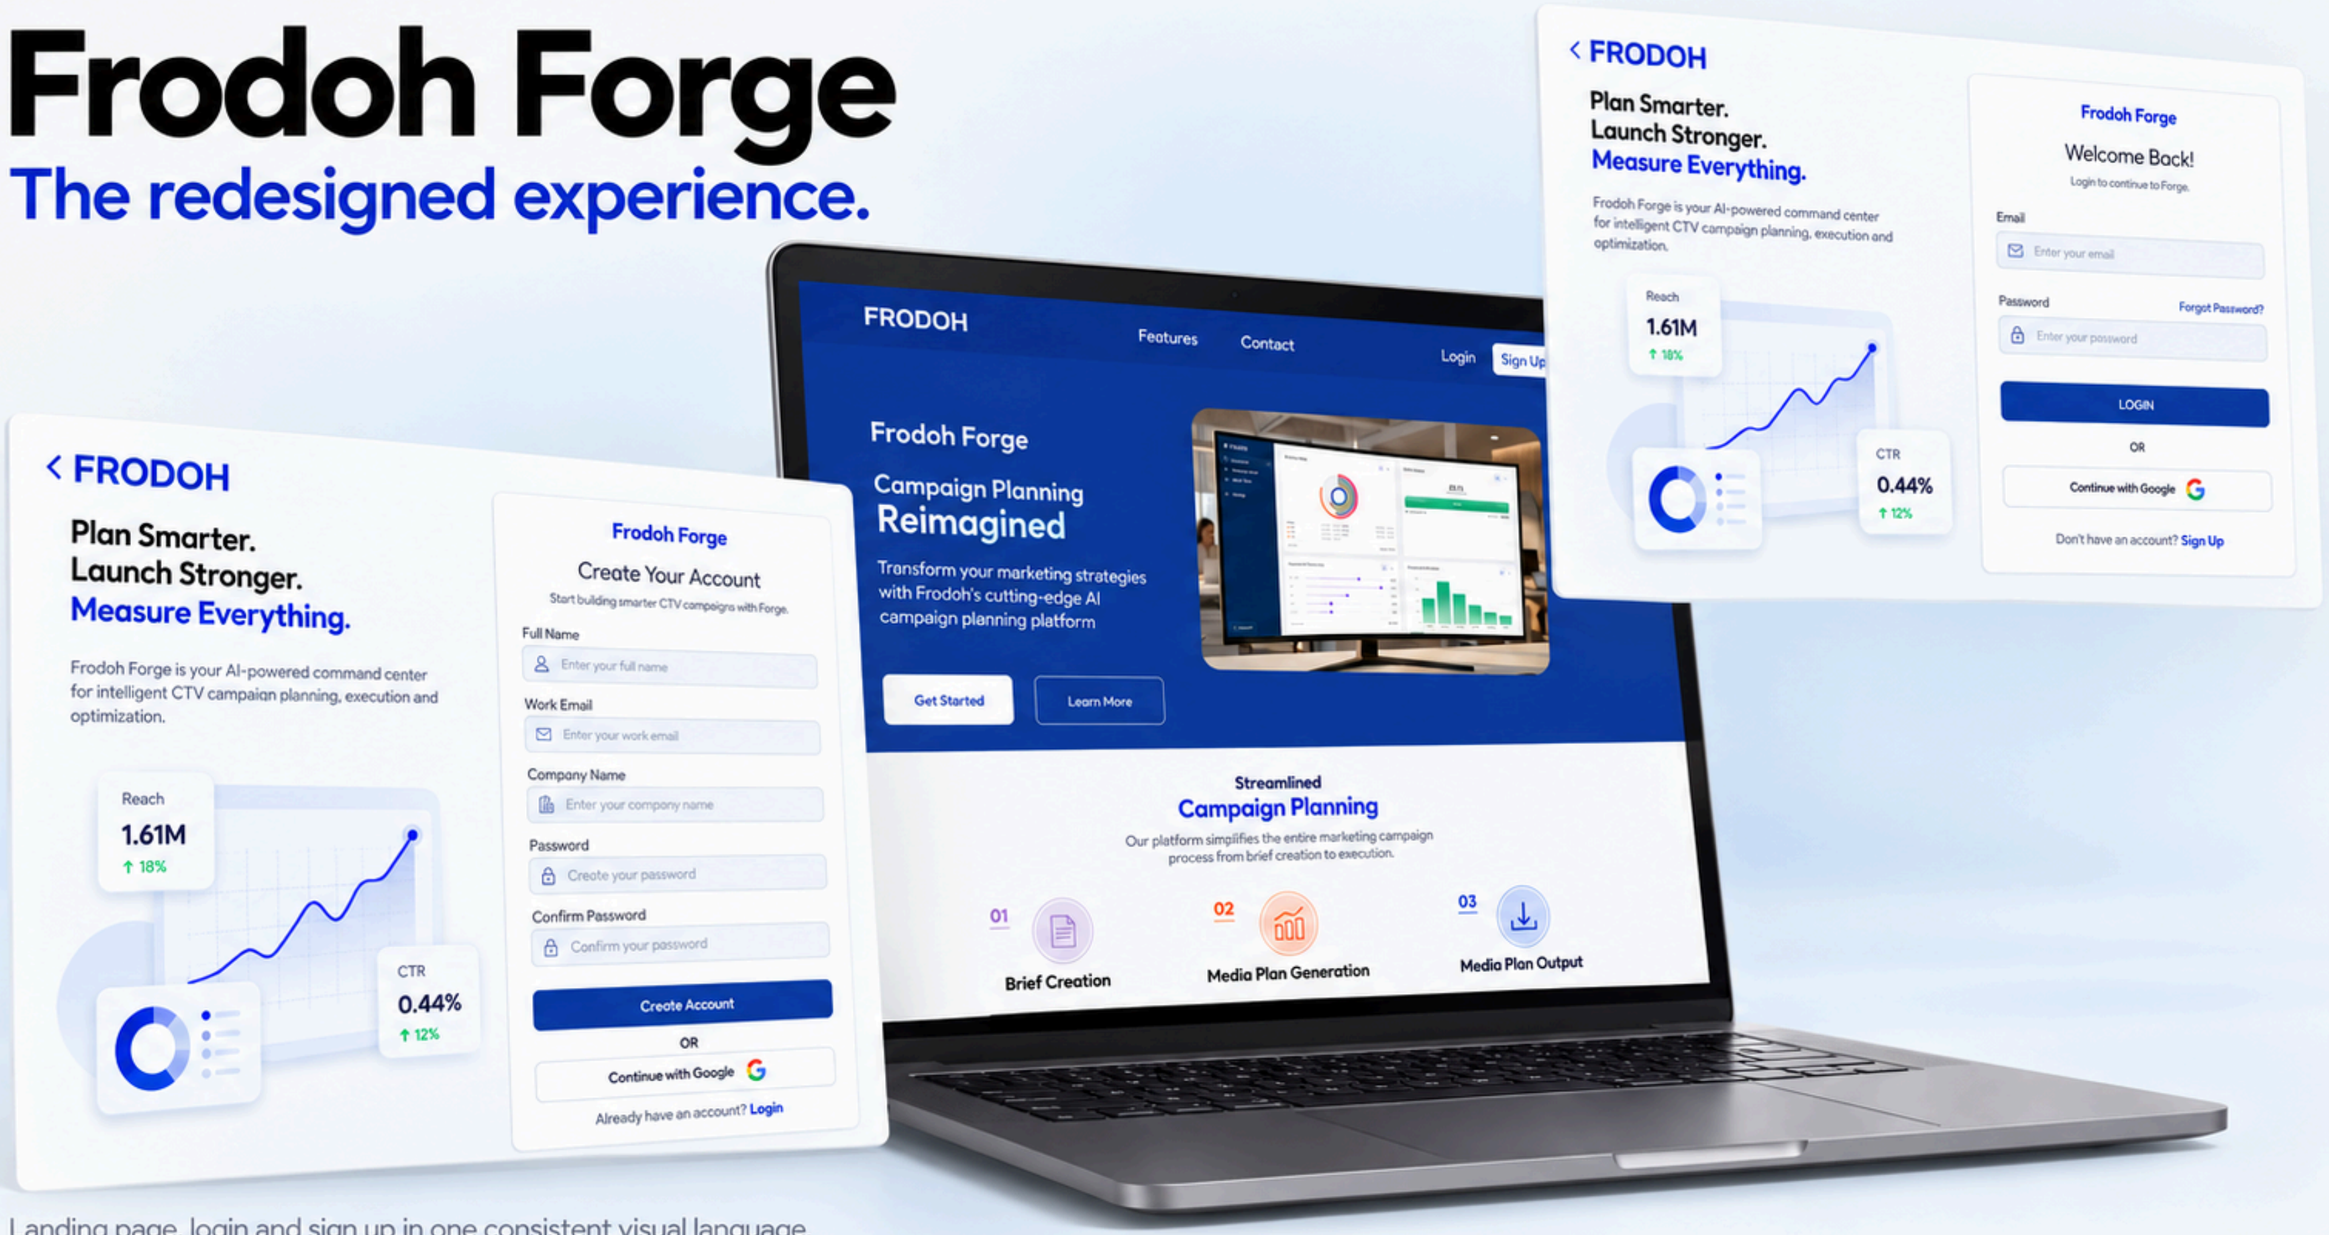

After

A cohesive blue hero with a contextual product showcase.

Frodoh Forge

The redesigned experience.

Landing page, login and sign up in one consistent visual language.
